“ Doug was a good older brother. He had his faults just like we all do. Being locked in an old outdoor toilet and having mud balls thrown at you wasn't funny when I was little. Watching him try cayenne pepper by the teaspoon was funny because he made a lot of funny gestures and noises. He had to look good so he stayed in the bathroom coming his "oil slicked" hair. It still makes me think how he liked to go hunting with our dad when he was a teenager. I will miss my brother but he now is at peace with himself and his family. Love you big brother. Love from your little sister' Myra (Gauck) Franks
