May the peace that comes from memories of love shared, comfort you now and in the days ahead. I don't have any words today to express how grieve you may feel for your loss, my earnest prayers and thoughts are always there to help you. She was a mother, a wife, a teacher, and a dear friend. She will deeply be missed. Remember she is always there in your heart and memories. So, whenever you feel sad just remember your hearts are always connected together even when there is such a great divide. My deepest sympathy, Autumn
