“ I just read about Isaiah in the paper this morning, I couldn't believe it. I am so sorry for your loss Heather, you two were such a sweet, caring couple, that was very obvious during the few times we were with you. This is so sad, you will be in my prayers.

“ It's hard to share just one memory when there are so many from all the weekends of riding as kids. Hanging with Isaiah on weekends in Farwell as a kid meant so much to me. Bill and Fern made us work before we went out and terrorized, made us take care of all our mess and really taught us good morals. Isaiah was a good kid that never got into the wrong crowd and hanging with him kept me out of so much trouble that I was normally getting into back home.

“ Eric: This message is for you. I am sure you know already, but Isaiah is not gone from you. He is gone from the physical world but not the world of being a twin. Twin brothers at that. Isaiah will always be a part of you that no one can ever have. I know words are empty when you are feeling loss. But hold tight to the bond the two of you shared. You may not remember me. But I used to visit a lot when you were little guys. Your mom + I were good friends/neighbors before I moved north. We have been friends for 50 years. I hope to meet you again as the adult you are now. God Bless, with love, Sally Jo Myers

“ Heather my heart breaks for you from the time we meet at tender care he was all you ever talk about your wedding day after your wedding you two were a story book for the first I watch and listen to a true fairy tale just to be able to marry you high school sweetheart and had amazing 11 years together is unheard of these days. You to show the world what a happy marriage was even with obstacles you two remained full of life. I know nothing anyone says will ever make the pain go away just know that you are surrounded by amazing people who wanna do whatever it takes to see your pretty smile again.

Isaiah, When I would come over to watch you boys at your dad's home. You guys along with my boys would try to see what you could get away with. But you were always a very good boy. Always got along so well with my boys. you spent a lot of time with each other. You will be missed. May GOD hold you in his hands and keep you safe. Love your sitter and cousin, now that your dad married my Aunt. Annabell ...
