

JoAnn Wilson

October 10, 1935

Farwell Chapel of Stephenson-Wyman Funeral Home

Tribute Wall

“ JoAnn was like a grandma to me when I was little. I grew up with the whole Wilson family and my heart goes out to them. They are in our thoughts and prayer. Thinking of you all. Love, Stepahnie##imported-begin##Stephanie and Doug Allen##imported-end##

May 11, 2011 at 05:16 PM

“ Ellen, Brian, and family, please accept the sincere condolences of all of the staff at Stephenson-Wyman Funeral Homes. The fact that you placed your trust in us means a lot to us, and we sincerely hope that we have been worthy of it.##imported-begin##Larry Wyman##imported-end##

May 11, 2011 at 05:16 PM

“ jkYh2F##imported-begin##Kristy Bigelow Brooks##imported-end##

May 11, 2011 at 05:16 PM

“ Grandma Wilson, I always enjoyed coming to your house and sitting at your kitchen table talking with you, not just because you were such a great listener but because you seemed to sit at the edge of your seat, eyes sparkling, waiting for a punch line. Even when you didn't quite hear what I had said you would laugh heartily anyways. You were always looking forward to stories about my grandma. The one who drank beer, smoked Marlboro, and swore like a sailor. You were a lot alike, not that you did any of those things, but because you both had a spunk that few people have. You could be warm and understanding but you could also be a wisecrack and this would keep me on the edge of my seat waiting for what you would say next. Coming to your house every year for the 4th of July has always been something I looked forward to but I noticed that you would only stay out with us until the fireworks would start and then you would retreat to your bedroom. I asked JoAnna about this and she said that the 4th of July was bittersweet for you because it had been one of your husband's favorite holidays. This brings me comfort knowing that you both will be watching from front row seats this year. Thank you so much for including me in your life and being so much like a second grandma to me. With Love,
Sarah###imported-begin###Sarah Osmond###imported-end##

May 11, 2011 at 05:16 PM

“ I truly enjoyed JoAnn. She accepted me into her home and her heart! I truly had grown to Love her dearly! I will miss her. I hope she knew that I truly valued the acceptance into her family!!! I will always think of her when I see a Cardinal!###imported-begin###Cindy Eddy###imported-end##

May 11, 2011 at 05:16 PM