

Richard D. Smith

November 1, 1942 - November 25, 2021

Richard Dale Smith, age 79 of Clare passed away Thursday, November 25, 2021, after a hard-fought battle with cancer lasting eight and a half years. Dick was born November 1, 1942 to Theodore Roosevelt Smith and Cora Marguerite (née Powell) Smith. He was the youngest, and was preceded in death by six siblings. Theodore, Norman, LaDonna Cords, Betty (Mike) Ivan, Judy Conrad, and Duane (Connie) Smith. He is survived by his loving wife of over twenty years, Diana (née Moreno) Smith and her sons Brent Holder and Bryce Henderson, three daughters Beki Henderson, Tami Steiner, and Jill (Wade) Rosenbaum, seven grandchildren, Amanda (Bradley) Brunger, Alise (Alex) Houpt, Taylor and Bailey Henderson, Kendyl, Macy, and Parker Rosenbaum, and five great-grandchildren, Brayden, Channing, and Ayvianah Cairns, and Rheilynn and Kennedy Houpt.

Dick had a natural curiosity and work ethic that led him to a life of tinkering, fixing, building, and helping others. After graduating from Perry High School in 1960, he started working with his father delivering fuel oil, before working for Diamond Reo Trucks, then spending over fifty years in the car business, eventually as the owner of D&R Auto Sales. Even when he wasn't at work, he loved building things and doing side-projects around the house. He could spend hour's woodworking in the garage, building anything from birdhouses to furniture. He was an avid golfer, playing on league every week for years and picking up a hole-in-one trophy along the way. He also enjoyed fishing and watching sports, particularly the Tigers, Pistons, and Lions.
