“ So many words left unspoken. My time with you wasn't done. I've been mourning you for several years now and now that your really gone it hits hard. I really wish I could have been there with and for you during your battle. My heart aches as I have to say goodbye. You will always be my daddy. You raised me as your own and stepped in as my father at a very young age when I had no one to call daddy. I didn't even know you weren't my dad until I listened in on that phone call that you were on when I was younger but my views never changed. I will always love you and cherish the fact that I got to call you my dad. I will forever miss you. I hope your pain and your struggles have gone away as you dance in heaven and find comfort in your new home. The time lost I will never get back but I look forward to the day we meet again and put all our past behind us. I love you daddy. Until we meet again! 🥺💔🥹 May you forever rest in peace!

“ There are so many memories that come to mind. For most of my life, you were a father to me. We had such a close bond. From embarrassing mom in the store, to you helping me do my school work at the last minute, to going to concerts, and going to college together you were always there for me while I was growing up. My heart broke when you stopped all communication with me. The last words you said to me was I love you. I wish I would have had the chance to tell you goodbye. You will forever remain in my heart. Thank you for all you have done for me growing up. May you rest in peace. I love you.
