“ I remember the first time I saw you, your smile took my breath away. I knew from that point that you were someone I really wanted to get to know and I am so grateful that I did. One of my favorite memories with you was when we went to the woods and just walked the trails together. You made me so happy and you were the only person I could talk to for a long time. You were my best friend. I know I will see your smile again some day but until then I will miss you more and more every day and I will never forget you <3

I always told him, you were my favorite, the moment you came here and I met you, I said son, she reminds me of myself when I was younger. I will never forget that you wanted to help on the duck house but instead went with myself and his grandmother to town. I just love the pic you took of him standing in the field of horses with his hand out <3

“ I am sorry for the loss of an amazing person. I miss him so much it hurts. I remember us going out to taco bell and him farting to break the barrier so we would get comfortable with each other(: or how every morning for over a year he'd text me "good morning beautiful girl". I love him more deeply than anyone knows. And I miss him with the same deep passion. I wish with every breath he was here with us.

“ I met Wayne while he was dating Brittany. We were driving to Dollar General to go shopping, and I looked at him and said, "You look just like young Jesus." He replied by laughing and said, "You don't just tell someone they look like Jesus while traveling to the dollar store!" We both laughed our heads off. I loved you Wayne Methner! You were a bright light in my life. RIP my dear friend. Keep on Rockin'

“ I remember one Thanksgiving when Wayne was 3 or 4. The turkey was in the kitchen sink. The family was in the living room. I peeked around the corner and Wayne was petting the turkey, telling the turkey that "everything was gonna be alright". He was so sweet and caring!
